FACE COUNTY RIVALS — Out for revenge, are these Warriors, comprising the defensive team which is out to stop the vaunted attack of the undefeated Washington-Lee junior varsity in the final contest for both teams today at the Generals stadium. Victors in five of eight encounters to date, the Warriors are hopeful of gaining revenge for last year's 20-7 loss to the Blue and Grey. Left to right along the front line are Phil Brumbaugh, John Booth,

Warriors End Season Today

By DUCK DUCKSON

Football season comes to a climax for two local teams this afternoon, when Wakefield high school meets the Washington-Lee junior varsity at 2:00 p.m. The Warriors enter the contest with a record of five wins against three defeats, and the hope of gaining revenge over a team which defeated them 20-7 last year. For the junior Generals, a perfect season is at stake, as they have rolled over six opponents, and hope to register a mark not accomplished by a Washington-Lee Jayvee team for over 15 years.

Both coaches were leary in predicting the eventual victor, but Warrior mentor "Tank" Johnson was quick in mentioning his team was eager, and in as good condition as expected for a possible victory in the final encounter. Likewise were the sentiments of Jayvee coach "Harv" Shipman, who, being well pleased with his squad's recent practice sessions, expressed his opinion by stating, "We are going out on the field with the intention of winning, and I feel we have the team to do just that."

Past records would probably give the junior Generals the nod, as they have defeated Gar-Field high, 4-6, a team which upset Wakefield, 12-9. Other common opponents include George Washington's junior varsity, which lost twice to the Blue and Grey, 14-6 and 13-0, and were also beaten by Wakefield, 19-0.

Both clubs boast a hard running attack, with Don Gardiner and Tom Perkins the mainstays in the Warrior backfield, and Bob Short combining with Kirk Wooley for the majority of the Generals' yardage. The host team will rate an edge in pass offense, with quarterback Chuck Davis looking for left end Ken Murray, halfback Steve Reid or end Bob Brown. Signal caller for the Warriors will be Henry Mayo, who usually hands off to Jimmy Wood, who in turn tosses to ends Mert McGill and Al Lederle or halfback Gardiner.

Probable starting lineups for the game:

Wakefield	vs. Washington-Lee JV
McGill	LT Murray
Stamp	LT Waler
Kennedy	LG Richmond
Parker	C Friedlander
Patalive	RG Mitchell
Gordon	RT May
Lederle	RE Haskell
Mayo	QB Davis
Gardiner	LH Short
Schlapkohl	RH Reid
Perkins	FB Wooley

Today's game with Wakefield, will mark the final contest for the Washington-Lee junior varsity grid-ers for the 1954 season, and will also climax the junior varsity action of an even dozen of coach Harvey Shipman's "best squad."

Destined for duty in the climaxing tilt are starters Bucky May, right tackle, Bob Friedlander, center, Bob Short, left halfback and Kirk Wooley, fullback. Others to see action before their departure are Curt Bierlein, Tim Russell, Brad Lampshire, Ben Legrae, Tom Potter, Brad Collins, Robert Carter and Bob Brown. All of these boys will act as honorary captains in the final game.

Being in their junior year at high school, the above mentioned players will not be eligible for junior varsity next fall, and must compete for the varsity team or forget their duties on the grid field.
